

Integrated Models

□ Chair – Joan Walker

□ Resource paper – Eric Miller

□ Integrated urban models: theoretical prospects

□ Technical papers

□ Modeling the interdependence in household residence and workplace choices

– Paul Waddell, Chandra Bhat, Naveen Eluru, Liming Wang, and Ram Pendyala

□ Stress triggered household decision to change dwelling: a comprehensive and dynamic approach

– by Khandker Nural Habib, Ilan Elgar, Eric Miller

□ A multi-agent model of urban processes and price setting in housing markets

– by Dick Ettema

Integrated Models

Lee's 7 deadly sins (1973)

1. Hypercomprehensiveness
2. Grossness
3. (Data) hungriness
4. Wrongheadedness
5. Complicatedness
6. Mechanicalness
7. Expensiveness

Integrated Models

IATBR Kyoto's 7 memorable quotes

1. "Who meets who in what bar leads to marriage."
2. "I don't get up in the morning and decide where I'm going to work."
3. "Have you ever heard of demand AND SUPPLY?"
4. "I'm glad SOMETHING is exogenous."
5. "When I finish the model, I'll name it MYMODEL."
6. "If we require 20 years of detailed panel data to get where we want to be, then we all need to get a new career."
7. "Integrated models are the holy grail"

"The task is difficult and the reward is great."